EAPINO 2023

Ψ-4108 Cognition & Emotion*

This seminar will be delivered in English and examined in English and Greek (e.g. adaptation of research stimuli and measures in Greek language).*

A total number of 18 students will be able to register. There will be more places for Year 4+ students and some (4) for Year 3 students.

Please see an outline of the lab on e-learn.

If you are interested in this seminar, please fill in the following form:

<https://forms.gle/ty8pHqVztT3aN6tc9>

Furthermore, please also email me your student card as a PDF (you can download this from your student Web). In your email communication, you need to indicate your Year of study. For Year 4 and above students, you need to indicate your actual Year of study (i.e. Year 5, 6, 7 etc) in order to be considered.

Selected participants will be notified by the lab leader through E-learn so if you are interested please enrol with the e-learn page of this lab

The first introductory session will take place on the 15th February at 09:15am (check timetable for room number)
